Join the "Say No to Offshore Oil" in Belize Selfie Initiative

We all know how to take a selfie, right? Well if you don't know how to, ask a friend to help you learn, because there is no better time to learn than right now. Why? Because a joint campaign by Belize's Coalition to Save Our Natural Heritage, Association of Protected Areas Management Organization (APAMO), Oceana Belize and other stakeholders is asking Belizeans to participate in a "Say No to Offshore Oil" selfie initiative.

Belizeans are being asked to take a selfie that conveys shock, anger, etc. that Government still has not said no to offshore oil exploration/drilling. If you are on Facebook and/or Instagram, please like and/or follow and invite others to like and/or follow.

On Instagram, you can find the cause under SAYNOTOOFFSHOREOILINBELIZE
 On Facebook, the page is "Say NO to Offshore Oil in Belize"

Feel free to post your selfie on your Facebook Profile, share it on the Say NO to Offshore Oil in Belize Facebook Page and post on your Instagram account as well. Make sure you use the hashtags #notooffshoreoilbelize #besensational on your posts.

Say NO to Offshore Oil in Belize:

"Belizeans are making their feelings known! If offshore oil is allowed in Belize, tens of thousands of Belizeans would be displaced when the spill happens! The economy would be crippled and Belize's world class marine environment would be permanently scared. Join the call to have the Government declare that there will be no oil exploration or exploitation in Belizean waters. Too much depends on the Belize Barrier Reef System. Spread the word to stop offshore oil!"

Let's start taking those selfies if you LOVE BELIZE!

Minister of Tourism Manuel Heredia and Director of the Belize Tourism Board join Oceana Belize VP in a selfie to say "No!" to offshore drilling in Belize!

You know after living 17 years in Alaska, I know what offshore oil drilling can do. It can really mess up the environment. The arctic ocean is a mess in certain areas. Hope you folks can put a stop to it.
